San Bernardino Sheriff's Department Found Liable for $11 Million in Damages

San Bernardino, CA - A San Bernardino jury has delivered a landmark verdict against the San Bernardino Sheriff's Department, finding them liable for $11 million in damages. This verdict was announced today after a 3-week trial in Department S24, presided over by Judge Gilbert Ochoa.

Kramer Trial Lawyers, represented by lead trial attorney Daniel K. Kramer and attorney Brandon Salumbides, successfully argued the case on behalf of Florencio Munguia. Mr. Munguia sustained permanent spine injuries due to the negligent driving of a Sheriff's Deputy on April 24, 2018. The incident occurred when the deputy made an ill-judged left turn, colliding with Mr. Munguia's vehicle.

"We are pleased that the jury recognized the seriousness of the injuries sustained by Mr. Munguia due to the careless actions of the Sheriff's Department," commended Trial Attorney Daniel K. Kramer. "This verdict affirms that everyone in our community, regardless of origin, language, or appearance, holds value and matters."

EDITS

"We are pleased that the jury recognized the seriousness of the injuries sustained by Mr. Munguia due to the careless actions of the Sheriff's Department,"

This case stands as a significant landmark in holding law enforcement agencies accountable for their actions, even outside of direct law enforcement situations. The hefty damages awarded underscore the severity of the consequences of negligence. The decision not only brings justice to Mr. Munguia, but it also sends a clear message to all public service departments about the necessity of rigorous training and responsible behavior. In an era where public trust in institutions is wavering, this verdict reinforces the principle that no entity is above scrutiny and accountability. It serves as a reminder that every individual's safety and well-being matter, and institutions must prioritize them at all times.
